She has healed her diseases at a cellular level.

Ask yourself the following:

- Why do we have more disease than ever before in our history?
- Who is responsible for your health?
- Why is medicine not healing anyone?
- Why are prescription drugs the "treatment of choice"?
- Why do we accept and believe that disease is a normal part of life?
- Why do we give our power away to medicine, doctors, and pharmaceutical companies?
- How can we become more responsible for creating health of body, mind, and emotions?
- How can we heal ourselves?

Share an evening with Linda Frock, CSPP, CNDP. Linda is a Certified Philosophy Practitioner tutoring in Spiritual Growth and Nutrition, and a Certified Neural Depolarization™ (NDP) Practitioner. You will discover new understandings about health and healing that can change your life. Discover the basics of what we have not been taught to understand about how to be healthy and how to heal. Knowledge is a powerful tool. Healing requires change, and health is a gift to self.

Immerse yourself for two hours in new perspectives and learn about a remarkable healing journey that can be the inspiration for your own personal journey into a positive, loving, and effective healing focus with the truths of healing.
